WELCOME!!

You have taken an important step to improve your life. The Guidance/Care Center (G/CC) is pleased that you chose us to assist you and your family. You will be involved in planning the services that will focus on your unique needs. G/CC offers a variety of services for children and their families. Prevention Services are for those who demonstrate no current problems. Intervention Services are for those who are at risk for developing problems. Outpatient Services are for those with a mental health problem or substance use disorder and include Therapeutic Behavioral On-Site Services or our Community Action Team for those who need a more intensive level of Outpatient Services.

You will review your plan with us regularly to see if the services are helping you to reach your goals. Your counselor will work with you. Medical staff also will be involved in your care as needed. The doctor, nurse practitioner, or physician assistant will consult with you to assess whether or not medication(s) may help you. S/he thoroughly will explain the risks and benefits of all medications prescribed to you.

We look forward to working with you. Thank you for choosing the Guidance/Care Center.

Description of Services

Assessment/Evaluation An interview that helps us decide what you and your family needs, what type of care is best for you, what services will help you the most, and how often you should get the services.

Discharge Criteria: Once you have achieved your goals successfully, you will be ready for discharge from Case Management.

- Philosophy of Program: Coordinating services and providing good assessment, planning, linkage, support, and monitoring is important. This helps someone getting case management reach their highest level of wellness, self-management, and functioning. Case Management encourages the involvement of the individual, regardless of how severe his or her illness is. These services work best when they allow everyone involved in care to talk directly to each other. This would include the client, the case manager, the doctor, family, and other people involved in care.

Information and Referral: Services that connect a person that needs help with the providers that can best give that service. It also provides information about agencies and organizations that offer services.

SEXUALLY TRANSMITTED DISEASES

HIV Information

During your admission process, you will receive an informative brochure on HIV facts. We also will ask you to answer an HIV Risk Assessment questionnaire. We will keep the information confidential. You do not have to complete the questionnaire if you do not want.

What is HIV and AIDS

HIV stands for Human Immunodeficiency Virus (say: ih-myoo-nuh-dih-fih-shun-see).

AIDS stands for Acquired Immunodeficiency Syndrome. HIV is actually the virus that causes the disease AIDS.

People must get a special test to know if they have HIV. If they have HIV in their blood, they are called HIV positive. HIV destroys part of the immune system. Specifically, it affects a type of white blood cell called the T lymphocyte or T cell. T cells are one type of "fighter" cell in the blood that help the body fight off all kinds of germs and diseases.

After HIV enters the body, it piggybacks onto a T cell and works its way inside of that cell. Once it is inside, the virus completely takes over the T cell. It uses the cell like a factory and makes a lot of copies of itself. The newly made viruses then leave the T cell and go on to infect and destroy other healthy T cells as they continue to multiply inside the body. T cells invaded by the virus can no longer fight infections properly. It may take years for the virus to damage enough T cells for that person to get sick and develop AIDS. The person may feel okay. But, the virus is reproducing itself silently and destroying T cells.

Thanks to new medicines, someone infected with HIV can stay fairly healthy and not have symptoms for many years. These medicines are very expensive though.

When the person's immune system becomes weak and the virus destroyed more of the blood's T cells, the person can no longer fight off infections. This is when he or she gets very sick. A doctor diagnoses someone with AIDS when the person has a very low number of T cells or shows signs of a serious infection.¹

Hepatitis:

Hepatitis is an infection of the liver. It is caused by a virus. The liver is on the right side of the abdomen. It is an important organ. (1) It cleans out poisons from your blood. (2) It makes an important digestive liquid called bile. (3) It keeps your body fueled up with just the right amount of glucose. (4) It regulates hormones. (5) It does other important jobs too. If the liver is affected by Hepatitis, it cannot effectively do all of its jobs.

There are five different infections that lead to Hepatitis: A, B, C, D, and E.

Hepatitis A (HAV):

For kids, Hepatitis A is the most common type of Hepatitis to get. The virus lives in poop from people who have the infection. That is why it is so important to wash your hands before eating and after going to the bathroom. If you don't, and then go make yourself a sandwich, Hepatitis A virus might end up on your food, and then in you.

Vegetables, fruits, and shellfish (such as shrimp and lobster) also can carry Hepatitis. This usually is because they were gathered from dirty water or in unclean conditions. Hepatitis A affects people for a short time, and when they recover, it does not come back.

Your body will likely clear the virus on its own with rest and hydration. Most children heal in 1 or 2 months with no permanent damage to the liver. A vaccine is now available to prevent Hepatitis A.

Hepatitis B (HBV):

Hepatitis B is liver disease caused by a virus. You do not get Hepatitis B from food or water. You can get Hepatitis B in several ways. (1) Contact with infected blood, (2) Having sex without a condom or protection, (3) During pregnancy, or (4) During delivery from mother to baby.

Treatment is injections with Interferon alpha. You also can get a vaccine for long-term protection.

Hepatitis C (HCV):

Hepatitis C is liver disease caused by a virus. You do not get Hepatitis C from food or water. You can get Hepatitis C in several ways. (1) Contact with infected blood, (2) Having sex without a condom or protection, (3) During pregnancy, or (4) During delivery from mother to baby. This is the most serious type of Hepatitis.

There are many new medicines for Hepatitis C treatment for adults. The person takes these medicines by mouth for several weeks. They cure more than 90% of people having Hepatitis C.

There are other medicines for children. These medicines require getting shots and taking medicines by mouth. This treatment cures between 50% and 80% of patients.

There is no vaccine for Hepatitis C.

Hepatitis D (HDV):

Hepatitis D is liver disease caused by a virus. It is not common in the United States. You must have Hepatitis B to get Hepatitis D. Hepatitis D cannot live without Hepatitis B. You get it by having contact with body fluids that have the infection.

There are no known treatments for Hepatitis D. You may get shots of a medicine called Interferon alpha. This is the medicine they use to treat Hepatitis B.

There is no vaccine for Hepatitis D.

Hepatitis E (HEV):

Hepatitis E is liver disease caused by a virus. It is not common in the United States. You can get Hepatitis E by drinking water that has been contaminated by poop. You also can get it from eating undercooked meat from an animal that has the virus. Pregnant women also can give it to the fetus.

Hepatitis E goes away on its own in most cases. You will need to get rest, drink a lot of fluids, and practice good hygiene.

There is no vaccine for Hepatitis E.

Tuberculosis (TB):

Tuberculosis or TB is a disease caused by bacteria. The bacteria's name is Mycobacterium tuberculosis. It mainly infects the lungs. It can affect other organs too.

TB is contagious. The bacteria can travel through the air and spread from one person to the next. This happens when infected people cough, sneeze, or spit. It is very hard to get TB by casual contact with someone who has it.

You will need a special test to find out if you have TB. It is called a tuberculin skin test.

If you have TB, you will need treatment. You will need to take an antibiotic that can kill the bacteria. You must take all of the medicine for it to work.

GUIDE TO MEDICATION

Many medicines can harm unborn babies or children who are breastfeeding. Different medicines can do different things. If you can get pregnant, are pregnant, thinking about getting pregnant, or breastfeeding your baby, let your doctor, nurse, or other medical person know.

You must take your medicine the way the doctor or medical professional told you. Do not stop taking it. Do not change how much of the medicine you take, how often you take it, or when you take it. You must talk to your doctor or other medical professional first. It can be dangerous to stop taking some medicines some medicines are dangerous suddenly. Some are dangerous to increase how much you take or how often you take them. Some will not work if you are not taking the correct amount or taking them often enough.

If you are having problems with your medicine, call G/CC. Ask to speak with your case manager or client advocate. If it is after hours, call the on-call number. If it is an emergency, call 911 and/or go directly to the emergency room.

Some medicines do not work well together and may be dangerous. Let the doctor or medical professional know the other medicines you are taking. Let your other doctors know what medicine your G/CC doctor or medical professional prescribed. Get in the habit of bringing your medicines with you to your meeting with all your doctors. Ask your pharmacist if the medicines you are taking interact. It is also a good idea to use the same pharmacy for all medicines.

No medicines mix well with alcohol and drugs. Do not drink or use drugs while you are taking the medicines. All medications take some time for your body to get used to. Expect to have some side effects for a few days after you start taking the new medicines. Side effects should not be severe. If they are, call your case manager or stop the medicines until you reach someone at G/CC.

When we start a new medicine, we do not know the effect it will have on us. Do not drive a car, operate equipment, or do difficult tasks until you find out what the effect is on you. Begin doing these activities slowly and cautiously.

Some medicines require blood tests. This is so the doctor or medical professional knows that the medicine is working and not hurting you. The blood tests are important. You MUST get the blood test when the doctor or medical professional tells you to get it. The doctor or medical professional will give you a written or printed order for the test. Follow the directions of the laboratory or medical professionals when you get the test. We have a list of the laboratories. Let the your case manager or client advocate know if you cannot afford the test.

If you are having money problems and cannot pay for your medicine or laboratory test, you're your doctor, medical professional, client advocate or case manager. We may be able to help you find ways to get it.

If the medicine does not help you or makes you feel bad, tell your doctor or medical professional at your next visit. You also can call your case manager. Not all medicines help people. Everybody is different. There are usually other medicines that will help.

Some medicine requires you to slowly increase the dose to the prescribed amount. This is so the medicine does not cause side effects or make you feel bad. Ask your doctor or medical professional if you should start with a low dose.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

How do I make an outpatient appointment?

Call the Front Office at the corresponding location, walk in to the nearest GCC office or talk to the GCC staff at your school. You can find the addresses and phone numbers on cover of this handbook.

What do I need to bring to my first appointment?

- Any paperwork the Front Office may have mailed or given to you.
- All insurance cards or referral forms from other agencies.
- Any previous medical records.
- For DUI clients, referral form and/or certificates of completion from DUI school.

How do I have input into my treatment?

After the assessment, G/CC will assign you a counselor. You will also receive written material for you to complete to tell us what brings you to G/CC. When you first see the counselor, he or she will discuss a lot of things with you. This will include information about alcohol, drugs, school, family, friends, and more. The counselor will also discuss the results with you. He or she will then help you come up with goals that will help you change your behavior and make things better for you. To help you come up with these goals, your counselor will use your strengths, needs, abilities, and preferences. Your counselor will review your progress periodically. We strongly encourage and welcome your input. We want to know what you think.

How do I ask for an interpreter or other auxiliary tools?

Ask the Front Office staff when you call to make an appointment or your G/CC counselor.

How can I submit a client satisfaction survey?

Surveys are available in the lobby of all locations and via email. Staff also may ask you to complete a survey at regular intervals. We ask that you take the time to complete the survey. Surveys are anonymous. Surveys can be completed via email, mailed in, given to a staff member and/or put in the survey boxes available in the lobby at all locations.

What happens if I miss one appointment?

Not showing up for an appointment without calling to cancel is called No-Showing. If you No-Show for one appointment, G/CC will cancel all other appointments you have scheduled. You only will be able to have “stand-by” appointments. “Stand-by” means that you can come and wait to see a service provider. He or she will see you when he or she has time.

How do I get reinstated?

If you are on “stand-by,” there is a way to get scheduled appointments again. (1) Keep showing up for “stand-by” services. (2) Schedule an appointment and be sure you come for it and on time.

What do I do if I am going to miss an appointment?

You MUST call the Front Office at least 24 hours prior to appointment time. If you do not do this, it will be a No-Show.

What is an administrative discharge?

There are several ways that your discharge could be administrative. (1) You voluntarily drop out of treatment. In other words, you decide you no longer want the services. (2) You say or do something to staff that is abusive or threatening. (3) You are involved in illegal activity. Examples are selling your medicines or forging prescriptions.

What are discharge criteria?

G/CC strongly recommends that you ask for your record before your discharge. This way the doctor or counselor can go over the content with you. You may need to pay a fee. The request may take up to 30 days to complete.

You must make arrangements for regular consistent payments on any unpaid balances.

SLIDING FEE SCALE

G/CC offers a sliding fee scale to assist in the associated costs of providing services. Discounts are based on income and family size. In order to best assess a discounted payment for the services you are receiving, please provide G/CC with documentation supporting your request for a discounted fee. Proof of income may include:

- Copy of Bank Statement
- Copy of most recent taxes
- Copy of pay stub

Self-declaration of income may also be considered to assess for discount fee. An individual's failure to make payment under a provider's sliding fee scale shall not prevent you or your family from receiving services. G/CC will not give you a certificate of completion for court ordered or other mandated treatment until the balance is paid in full.

G/CC understands the high cost of living in our community and wants to help you.

Thank you!

PROGRAM ORIENTATION

GENERAL PROGRAM STRUCTURE

The Guidance/Care Center provides education, counseling and treatment for adults and children. The process begins with an intake and orientation. It also will include a tour and showing you where the emergency exits are located. G/CC does not allow the use of seclusion and/or restraints in its programs for youth. Our locations are smoke free facilities, but you may smoke in specific outside smoking areas. If you are not of legal age to use tobacco products, you are not allowed use them. G/CC will give you a copy of our policies on prescription medicine, illegal or legal substances brought into the program. You also will get a program schedule of groups and activities. Front office staff will explain fees that you will have to pay. You also will get information about specific fees in the program specific information pages you receive. G/CC expects that you will participate in group and individual sessions. You must follow the program rules. You will participate in developing a plan for your services. We call this a Wellness and Recovery Plan. If there are any assignments in this Plan, you must complete them. We also will be reviewing this Plan regularly with you. You will participate and give input into any revisions to your Plan. For many of our programs, we must do a comprehensive assessment with you. This assessment is called a biopsychosocial. This assessment will help us figure out the services you need and what the focus of the services should be. We will use the information so that we can work together to develop your Wellness and Recovery Plan. We like it when you help us with this so that the Plan is about what you want and want you want to achieve. This is called person-centered. The Wellness and Recovery Plan has personal goals and objectives that you helped pick. We use the information on the assessment to decide what they are. We also will use this information to guide your Service Plan. You may have other needs and G/CC may not have services for them. If that happens, we will give information about other agencies that give those services. If needed, we will give a referral for the other services you need. After completing your Wellness and Recovery Plan, we will work with you to develop a continuing care plan. We also will give you information about other community resources you might need. Some people are involved with the legal system or with court. If that is your situation, we will give reports to them. We also may go to court on your behalf if this is needed. We have specific program guidelines to do this. In these cases, we will let the court or legal system know about your progress or lack of progress. We also will let them know if you are going to your services and what your urine drug screen results are. Incentives are program specific. If you are in a program that uses them, we will address that also. We welcome your input regarding our services. During your time with us, we also will ask you to complete a satisfaction survey. We also will try to follow-up with you after discharge from our programs. We will do this whether you had a successful discharge or not. In addition, we will follow up with you to see if you need any more services from G/CC or another agency. We also want to know if you were satisfied with our services. We are interested in your input about what we are doing well and what we can do better.
